

“Hi, friends!” “Yokoso!” “Welcome to our school!” Students in Kohoku Sakura welcomed Springfield Lakes State School (SLSS) with open arms. 22 students and escorting teachers from Australia came to our school at last! We have known each other for 2 years and have exchanged messages in English and Japanese since our school has opened in 2017. We studied about Australian cultures and languages in our lessons of social studies, music, moral education and English. Sakura students tried their English and showed warm hospitality called Omotenashi. The students realized the importance of communication and smile through this program. It is the goal of learning, isn't it? Many students used languages to help other people.

They also thought and took action to help others. We are proud of our kids in both countries.

Introduction of SLSS and Kohoku Sakura

Gyohji no shokaiwo shimasu.

Smile, Talk, Listen kindly.
Students know how to behave in international communication. They did it!

Comedy show in English

Talked about Japanese school lunch & cleaning

Buddies and staffs are all volunteers. Good job!